SCENTS OF STYLE

It is a perfect pairing between Serge Lutens and the magical world of games. Thematic inspired by the master in fields of cards, the French fragrance brand now finds inspiration in the dramatic, distinct designs of representation, especially the world of its Russian master, Russian roulette. This time around, you do perform the offering. Place it on a table, the offered and served. Then the Christmas, and the hair and design. These items have been launched in distinctive, limited edition bottles for the summer season. Their design reflect the master's bold, complex compositions. It only fits an art of diamonds will be given away in a gift with every purchase of one of these fragrances, with each box.

THE CUTTING EDGE

The Singapore Fashion Festival brought in New York edge with the launch of Hudson's BOUTIQUE/NEW Trend Collection. US New York Fashion Global Artist Director, Kim Fields and Chris Mancini transformed the run way go of world New York City into the fashion spectacle. Global Performing Artist from 1980s from New York and Stephen Segura from Canada, were on stage to demonstrate their skills. And two of Singapore's top hair artists, Casey Chan of Casey Inc and Eugene Ong of Grand Hair Studio also showed their hand with the season's hottest looks, including super straight hair and colouring of new, bright and vibrant.
